Regardless of the day or time, a visit to the Lafayette Farmers Market promises some of the finest and freshest produce, as well as an enjoyable opportunity to browse as you stroll through one of Indiana's oldest outdoor markets!

Lafayette Farmers Market has been operating downtown for over 170 years, dating back to 1839. Every year, May through October, the smell of fresh flowers, vegetables, fruits and baked goods fill the air. Visit the market for local grown produce as well as honey, jams, jellies and so much more.

There's something special about meeting the maker of your nutrition, you can even get some great gardening tips for your own garden. Nature and the progression of the growing season dictate the number of available produce.

Visit www.LafayetteFarmersMarket.com for a complete listing of special events and live market entertainment.
